To Authors

South Pacific Journals research and review article in all categories for science, Pharmacy, Medicine, technology and Tourism.

SPJPBS published subjects:

- Pharmaceutical Chemistry
- Food technology
- Immunology
- Life Sciences
- Materials Science
- Medicinal Chemistry
- Neuroscience
- Pharmaceutical Sciences
- Pharmacology
- Veterinary Medicine
- Bio-Technology
- Novel Drug Delivery
- Pharmacology
- Biomaterial Sciences
- Nano-Technology
- Molecular Biology
- Neuro Biology
- Pathology
- Micro Biology
- Bio-Chemistry
- Bio Informatics
- Cell Biology
- Molecular Biology

All manuscripts are subjected to RAPID peer review process and those of high quality (which are not previously published and are not under consideration for publication by another journal) would be published without any delay in subsequent issue. Online submission of the manuscript is strongly recommended.

Research article

Prepare the complete manuscript in Times New Roman font with 12 font size and for title shall 14 with bold face capitals. All section titles in the manuscript shall be in font size 12, bold face capitals. Subtitles in each section shall be in font size 12, bold face lower case. Standard International Units could be used throughout the text. Manuscript should be starting with the title page and the text should be arranged in the following order:

Title page

Abstract

Key Words

Introduction

Materials and Methods

Results and Discussion

Conclusion

Acknowledgements

References (must be in numerical in text as well as references).

Title and authors information

The title must be as brief as possible, comprehensive and descriptive. Each author must provide their full name including their full name (forenames and surname) followed by their address in normal face lower case. The Corresponding Author must be marked with an asterisk, and should be listed first. In addition the corresponding author must include telephone, fax and E-mail address.

Abstract:

Reviews, Mini Reviews, Original Research Articles and Rapid Communications should require an abstract. Should start on a new page after the title page and should present the reason of the study, the main findings and principal conclusions, not more than 250 words. All abstracts must be written in one paragraph, with no subheadings, equations, tables, reference citations or graphics.

Keywords:

Four to ten appropriate key words are to be provided by the authors.

Introduction:

Should start from second page and clearly indicate background of the work, previous literature and the aim of the study.

Materials and Methods:

Materials and methods should include concise details on the methodology adopted, sufficient to repeat the experiment. Procedural detail that has been published previously should be referred to by citation. When a modified procedure is used, only the author's modifications of the previously published method need to be given in detail. The statistical method and the level of significance chosen shall be clearly stated. In animal experimentation, ethical guidelines shall be acknowledged.

Results and Discussion:

It should contain a critical review of the results of the study with the support of relevant literature. All findings presented in tabular or graphical form shall be described in this section. The data should be statistically analyzed and the level of significance be stated. Data that is not statistically significant need only to be mentioned in the text, no illustration is necessary. All Tables and figures must have a title or caption and a legend to make them self-explanatory. The discussion should involve the significant findings presented. Wide digressions are unacceptable because of the limitations of space. Results and discussion of results can also be combined under one section or individual.

Conclusion:

In a separate section, the major findings of the study and their usefulness shall be summarized.

Acknowledgements:

All acknowledgments should be typed in one paragraph directly preceding the reference section.

Abstract:

Brief information of study, details of the concept and main objective of the review and conclusion. Should start on a new page after the title page and should not more than 250 words. All abstracts must be written in one paragraph, with no subheadings, equations, tables, reference citations or graphics.

Keywords:

Four to ten appropriate key words are to be provided by the authors.

Introduction:

This section covers the background history of the title, details of the concept and main objective of the review.

Discussion:

Discuss the review points and express the main intention of the study and give your future recommendations along with conclusion.

Common sections for Research and Review articles are,

References:

Authors are responsible for the accuracy and completeness of their references as these will not be checked by the editorial office. References should be numbered consecutively in the order in which they are first mentioned in the text (not in alphabetic order). Identify references in text, tables, and legends by Arabic numerals in superscript in square brackets. Use complete name of the journal for non-indexed journals.

The commonly cited types of references are shown here.

Articles in Journals:

Format: Author(s) (surname initials), Title of article, Name of journal, (Year); Vol (issue):page no.

Books and Other Monographs:

Format: Author(s) of chapter (surname initials), Title of chapter, In: Editor(s) name, editors, Title of book, Place of publication: Publisher, Year of publication, page numbers.

Government publication/Corporate author:

Illustrations:

The number of illustrations should be limited to the essential. Graphs and bar graphs should preferably be prepared using Microsoft Excel and submitted as Excel graph pasted in Word.

Drawings of chemical structures should as far as possible be produced with the use of a drawing program such as Chem-Draw.

The use of the International System of Units (SI) is recommended. For meter (m), gram (g), kilogram (kg), second (s), minute (m), hour (h), mole (mol), liter (l), milliliter (ml), micro liter (μ l).

Formulas and Equations:

Structural chemical formulas, process flow diagrams and complicated mathematical expressions should be very clearly presented. All subscripts, superscripts, Greek letters and unusual characters must be identified. Structural chemical formulas and process flow diagrams should be prepared in the same way as graphs.

Correcting Proofs and Reprints

Article proofs will be sent to the corresponding author. South Pacific Journals will send PDF/Microsoft Word proofs by e-mail for correction. South Pacific Journals will do everything possible to get the article corrected and published as quickly and accurately as possible. Therefore, it is important to ensure that all corrections are sent back in ONE communication. Subsequent corrections will not be possible. Only typesetting errors may be corrected; no changes in, or additions to, the accepted manuscript will be allowed. Proofs should be returned to South Pacific Journals within 2 days. No gratis reprints will be provided, but corresponding author will receive a copy of that particular issue in which his/her paper is published.
